Foreword

"To the student nurses who have worked themselves to the bone."

We, the senior class of 1955-56, publish this edition of TRES ANNI with the hope that as you glance through its pages you will cherish with us all the precious moments of the past, and in the sincere hope that each bright spark of yesterday will give new strength for tomorrow.

In Memoriam

We present this page in tribute to Dr. Henry W. de Saussure in hopes that we may express some appreciation for the many spiritual and material gifts which he gave to us all.

Dedication

In deepest and sincere appreciation for her tireless and invaluable efforts to help us reach our goal; for her loving comfort and understanding through every moment of the unknown; for perceiving the best in us when only the worst was perceptible, and for teaching us the value of true friendship, we, the staff, wish to dedicate this edition of TRES ANNI to Miss Helen Moosey.

To the Administration

. . . . . For always being there to guide our footsteps in the right path, for their ever-ready willingness to do what was best for us, for always considering our welfare, and unselfishly helping us to carry out to best advantage all of our endeavors; we, the staff of Tres Anni of 1955-56, wish to extend to you our heariest thanks.

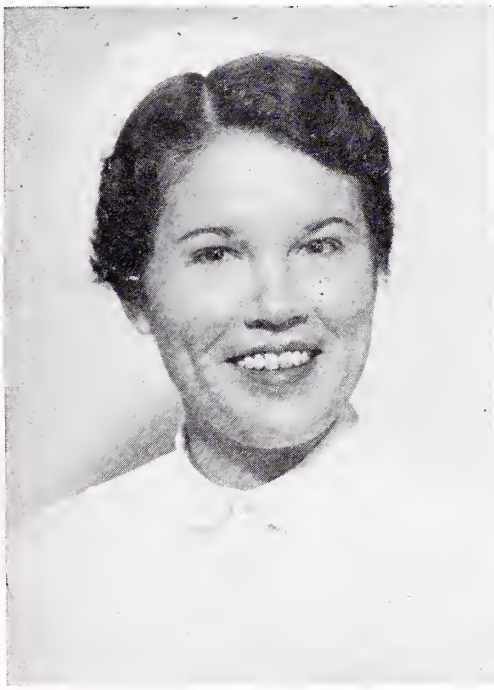
MYRTLE ANN BENTON

Whoever loved that loved not at first sight.

BOBBIE JEAN BREWER

High heels were invented by the woman who was first kissed on the forehead.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS



MARGARET CANNON

Count as time wasted that is spent for pleasure.

MARION EVELYN CATE

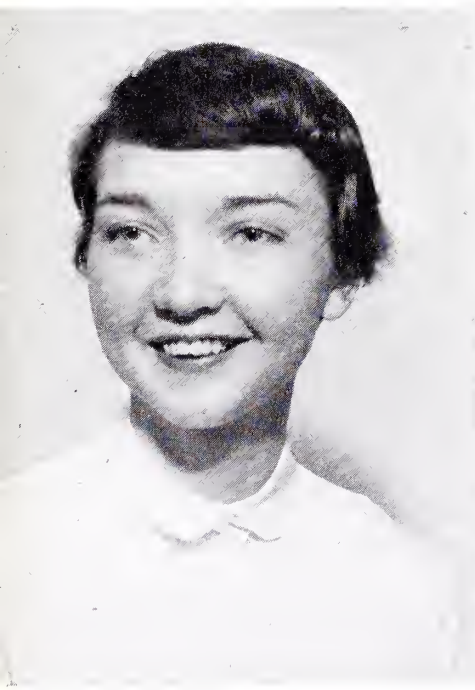
It's the song she sings and the smile she wears, that's a-making the sun shine everywhere.

BARBARA SWEATMAN CHESLEK

What is life without love.

HOPE CHILDRESS

Those dark eyes, so dark and deep, with far-away thoughts no one can see.



THELMA COLLINS

They also serve who stand and wait.

MARY ANNE CONE

She hides a multitude of excellent qualities under a cloak of modesty.

RACHEL ELIZABETH DAVIS

Small in stature but wise in judgment.

MARGARET DIMERY

There is no pleasure like the pain of being loved and loving.

IRIS ELWANDA DAVIS

Kindness to do and say, the kindest thing in every way.

MARYEDITH DAVIS

Be yourself—and nobody else.

BARBARA DONNELLY

It was this annual she had to edit—lots of work with little credit.

MARY SHELLY ELVINGTON

Work, study, and love, but the greatest of these is love.

LUCILLE FLOYD

My heart is whole, my fancy free;
Run along little boys, don't bother me.

THOMASINE GATLIN

If you get simple beauty and nought else, you have the best God invents.

JO ANNE GRAY

Success is getting what you want—Happiness is wanting what you get.

EASTER HARRIS

As you like it, so shall it be;
If you don't like it—don't blame it on me.

MARLENE HENSON

She's no surgeon, but she does a great deal of cutting up.

RUTH BENNETT HOUSER

Always busy, but time for everyone.

CLAUDIA HUNTER

She speaks, behaves, and acts just as she ought.

PATSY LEA JEFFORDS

Love is the greatest education. I am now educated.

ETHEL MATHEWS BONNIFACE

This is a girl who'll never stop, until she gets to be on top.

CONSTANCE BINGHAM MEULENBERG

Patience and gentleness is a power.

MIRIAM OWENS

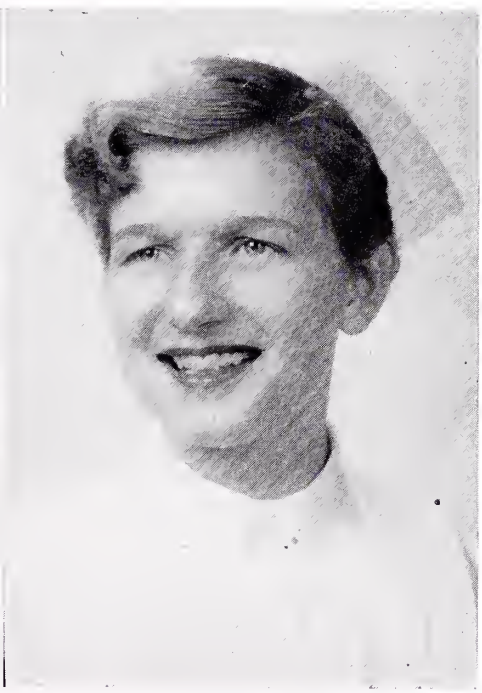
To be loved is all I need, and whom I love I shall love indeed.

LILYANNE PETERKIN

It is best to love wisely, but to love foolishly is better than not to love at all.

VALIN MILLARD JANUS

A little nonsense now and then,
Is relished by the wisest men.



EVELYN MOORE

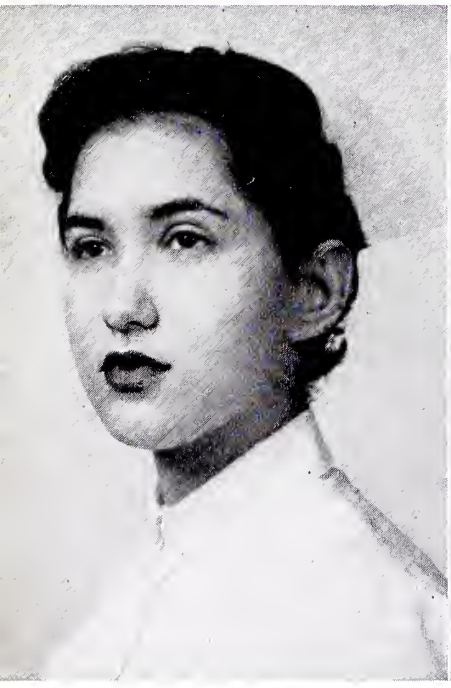
Without love and laughter, life is nothing.

HAZEL FRANCES PHILLIPS

Agree, if you can—If not, dispute it like a man.

CAROLYN REGISTER

Eat, drink, and be merry—it would have happened anyway.



MOLLY SECALL

Let fools the studious despise—there's nothing lost in being wise.

CAROLINE SHAW

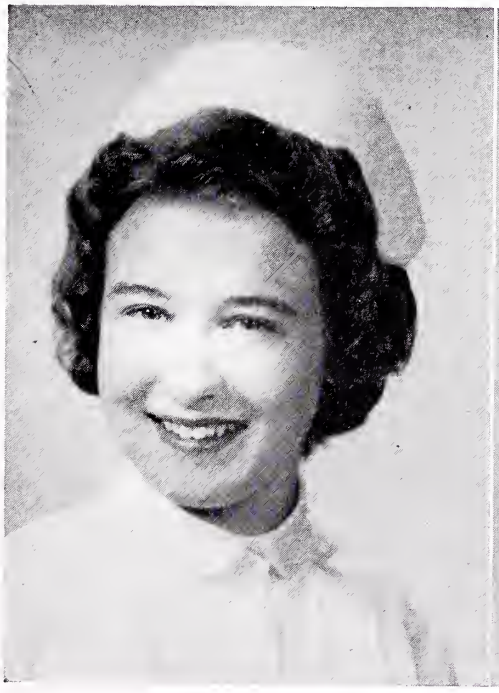
Who broke no promises, served no private end;
Who gained no enemy, and lost no friend.

DESSIE SHEALY

Give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you.

BEVERLY SIMS

And she grew a noble lady, and the people loved her much.



MARY SIRES

From a little spark may burst a mighty flame.

JOYCE TRESCOTT

A perfect woman, to warm, to comfort, and command.

PATRICIA WEEKS

Give me true friends and music, and life will be a pleasure.

FRANCES POWELL WHIPPLE

To speak his thoughts is every free man's right.

LILY BREIHAHN YARNELL

As pure in thought as angels are—to know her is to love her.

LAST WILL AND

I, Margaret Cannon, do hereby leave my position as "Miss Monitor of 1954" to Jerrie Ashley and my "spit curls" to anyone who can wear them.

I, Claudia Hunter, do hereby leave my old duty shoes to my little sister, Jackie Hook, Let's polish them and see if they can take it.

I, Thelma Collins, do hereby leave my room on back hall to someone who promises never to live there.

I, Tommie Gatlin, do hereby leave my ability to stay out of the infirmary to Pat Graham.

After hard thought, I, Dessie Shealy, leave two things to the faculty — peace and quiet.

I, Marlene Henson, hereby will and bequeath to my little sister, Grace Wooten, and Joyce Munn my ability to get out of bed any time of the day, especially 6 A. M., with a smile on my face.

I, Ruth B. Houser, will to anyone who'll ask me to say, "I do."

I, Mary Sires, will my studious and intellectual knowledge of obtaining an honorary Master's Degree in all the subjects of nursing to Betty Ann Bessinger.

I, Rachel Davis, do hereby will and bequeath to Nettie Davis and Angie McGill, my little sisters, all of the memories and pleasures of the past three years.

I, Barbara Donnelly, being in sane mind(?) do hereby will and bequeath my musical talents to Margaret Whitley, in hopes that she can find hers! (I couldn't).

I, Frances Phillips, do hereby leave my cast iron stomach for eating Roper food to Sue Lundy.

I, Pat Weeks, will my vim, vigor and vitality to Letty Ann Johnson.

To Shirley Altman, so slim and thin, I, "Pinky" Shaw, will my obesity.

I, Myrtle Ann Benton, do hereby will and bequeath my tired, aching feet to the future Business Manager of Tres Anni and to my little sister, Barbara Smith, enough gumption to stay here for three years.

I, Hope Childress, will my ability to say the wrong thing at any time to Anita Gather.

I, Jo Anne Gray, do hereby will and bequeath my stately height to any little short girl who has trouble being seen, and seeing over heads in crowded places.

I, Miriam Owens, will to all underclassmen the ability to learn as much as I did while working on White Pediatrics, and love it.

I, Maryedith Davis, will to Julie Hartnett and Carolyn Stone the good time I had at Sheppard Pratt.

I, Ethel Boniface, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get on night duty to anyone who plans to get married.

I, Mary Ann Cone, do hereby

TESTAMENT

will and bequeath my love of pediatrics to Joyce Duncan.

I, Mary Ann Townsend, do hereby will and bequeath my quiet nature to Billie Boette.

I, Mary Elvington, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get married, finish training, and make my home between here and Virginia to anyone who cares to try it.

I, Lucile Floyd, will my love for night duty on Isolation to anyone who thinks she can enjoy it as much as I did.

I, Lily Yarnell, do hereby will and bequeath my stepladder to anyone who has trouble reaching things.

I, Frances Whipple, do hereby will and bequeath my happiness to anyone who can find it, too.

I, Carolyn Register, do hereby will and bequeath my love for parties to Flora Sue Owens.

I, Easter Harris, do hereby will and bequeath the "Bunny Hop" to all the student nurses left at Roper Hospital.

Witnessed by:

Rachel Davis

Molly Segall

I, Pat Jeffords, do hereby will and bequeath to Betty Hood my love for Charleston while my fiancee is in Columbia.

I, Bobbie Brewer, do hereby will and bequeath to Barbara Stein my ability to attend B. S. U. at The Citadel on Monday nights.

I, Molly Segall, do hereby will my ability for getting into crazy mixed-up situations to any junior who thinks life is dull.

I, Joyce Trescott, do hereby will my ability to get through three years of training with eight hours of sleep to Ruth Bryan.

I, Evelyn Cate, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep a straight face at all times to Renee Rotstein.

I, Evelyn Moore, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to work night duty and go to the beach every day to Mary Henson.

I, Maggie Dimery, do hereby will my love for attending Citadel Dress Parades to anyone who has as good a reason as I.

I, Lynn Millard, do hereby will my love for the skies to any groundhog who wants it.

Signed,

Lilyanne Peterkin

PROPHECY

June 10, 1965, dawned bright and clear as it always does on auspicious occasions, and Charleston buzzed with the promise of new excitement. It was Alumnae Homecoming Day, and the class of '55 was arriving in all its former fury. I closed the pet shop for the day and went down to meet the train, wondering how I could ever explain that I had been reduced to caring for sick cats, when all my classmates had reached successful heights. I had a lot to learn that day.

At the station I first spied Rachel Davis (Britton), and soon found out she was assistant football coach at Rantowles. Well, it's been said that every team needs a nurse. We traveled on together down the ramp and met Capt. Evelyn Cate, head of the Army Nurse Corps, who had just returned from a meeting with the President of the United States, Joyce Trescott, to discuss sending aid to the missionary service in China, headed by said Easter Harris who still likes to knit argyle socks. We hopped into an Army limousine and headed out toward The Citadel to pick up Bobbie Brewer, who is chief phychiatric nurse there, and Margaret Dimery, who teaches urology at the Medical College when not at her regular job as representative of Dorothy Dix at The Citadel.

While in the neighborhood, we stopped at a grammar school where Connie Muelenberg is school nurse. We heard that she has established a fine program. In the school we met Lily Breihahn (Yarnell) who was collecting the two charming children for whom she does private duty.

We whizzed to Raley's for lunch (we were making money at last), and whom should we bump into but Miriam Owens, Miss America of 1964, and the two runners-up Frances Powell Whipple and Mary Ann Townsend. They were full of news: Had we heard that Carolyn Register was the new housemother at the AKK house? We had, indeed, and in addition had they heard that Evelyn Moore was making all the dresses the girls wear to the fraternity parties?

After lunch we rode to the old campus to look around. We found Jo Ann Gray was head nurse on Colored Pediatrics, and Claudia Hunter, pediatric instructor. It was said that she is very strict on the students but has been known to entertain the patients with choruses of Honey Love. In the Medical College Teaching Hospital we found Mary S. Elvington supervisor of the Colored Obstetric Ward, though she still can't distinguish between medical students and residents. We heard that Tommy Gatlin was a clinical instructor, but had the strange habit of giving her lectures over the phone. This we got confidentially from the telephone operator Thelma Collins. She had recently been to Columbia and reported that our girls were keeping the town alive. Dessie Shealy is a famous movie star and is now making a personal appearance at Laurel Hill in Columbia. Beverly Sims (Vanderbilt) is in charge of the State Hospital. She met her husband while on a cruise on his great-nephew's yacht. Also in Columbia was Caroline Shaw who married the governor of South Carolina and is queen of Columbia society, entertaining such dignitaries as Mr. and Mrs. Rod Mott (Pat Weeks) and Madame Lilyanne Peterkin, ambassadress to Nassau. Ethel M. Boniface had recently changed planes in Columbia en route to Paris where her husband is head of the French Foreign Legion.

By that time it was getting late, so we went to the hotel to dress for the Alumnae banquet. By a strange twist of fate, Myrtle Ann Benton and Hope Childress were down the hall. They were both doing private duty, with heart cases a specialty. The clack of a typewriter disturbed our merrymaking, and investigation revealed Maryedith Davis at work on a novel entitled The Life and Loves of Lucile Floyd, from 1963-1964 using as references recent newspapers and magazine articles. At that moment, in walked Marlene Henson, wearing one of the uniforms that made her famous in the designing world. With it, she wore some smart duty shoes designed by Frances Phillips.

At last, banquet time arrived and we were seated around a long, lavishly decorated table. Mistress of ceremonies was Ruth Houser, chief nurse aboard a Dutch Liner who gave a disertation on cocktail glasses dipped in sugar and lemon juice. She brought us a message from Pat Jeffords (Fox) who is now operating room supervisor at a 1500 bed hospital in the Belgian Congo. Eyeing the delicious feast, Barbara Cheslek was reminded of the time she burned a chicken dinner when she had to run outside to give first aid to Margaret Cannon who had had a collision with Elwanda Davis who was driving wildly down the street on her bicycle in a hurry to get to a rehearsal for a show for the overseas theater of which she is chairman.

We had a greeting from Mary Sires, national BSU director and nurse-consultant to the Mary Ann Cone Orphanage. The evenings events were covered by Barbara Donnelly, reporter for the New York Times. As she stated, "A good time was had by all," but several people were caught looking at their former classmates with that "Hasn't-she-gotten-fat?" look in their eyes. Just wait till the 1980 reunion!

Bye till then.

Molly Segall (Rosenfield)

Class History

On September 8th, 1952, 19 bright-eyed, anxious little girls filed into Main Home, all a bit shy and reserved, but filled with anticipation of things to come.

By night fall everyone had at least met everyone else and a few of us could actually remember names, but most of us did well to remember those of our roommates and Big Sister.

The Big Sister-Little Sister Party was a big success; we lost some of our reserved feelings and really enjoyed the party.

How rapidly the days flew by! How we'd strut before the mirror in our preclinical uniforms!

Happy day—after what seemed endless studying and work—the day of capping arrived. What a feeling of accomplishment we shared as we proudly displayed our caps and bibs on the wards the next morning.

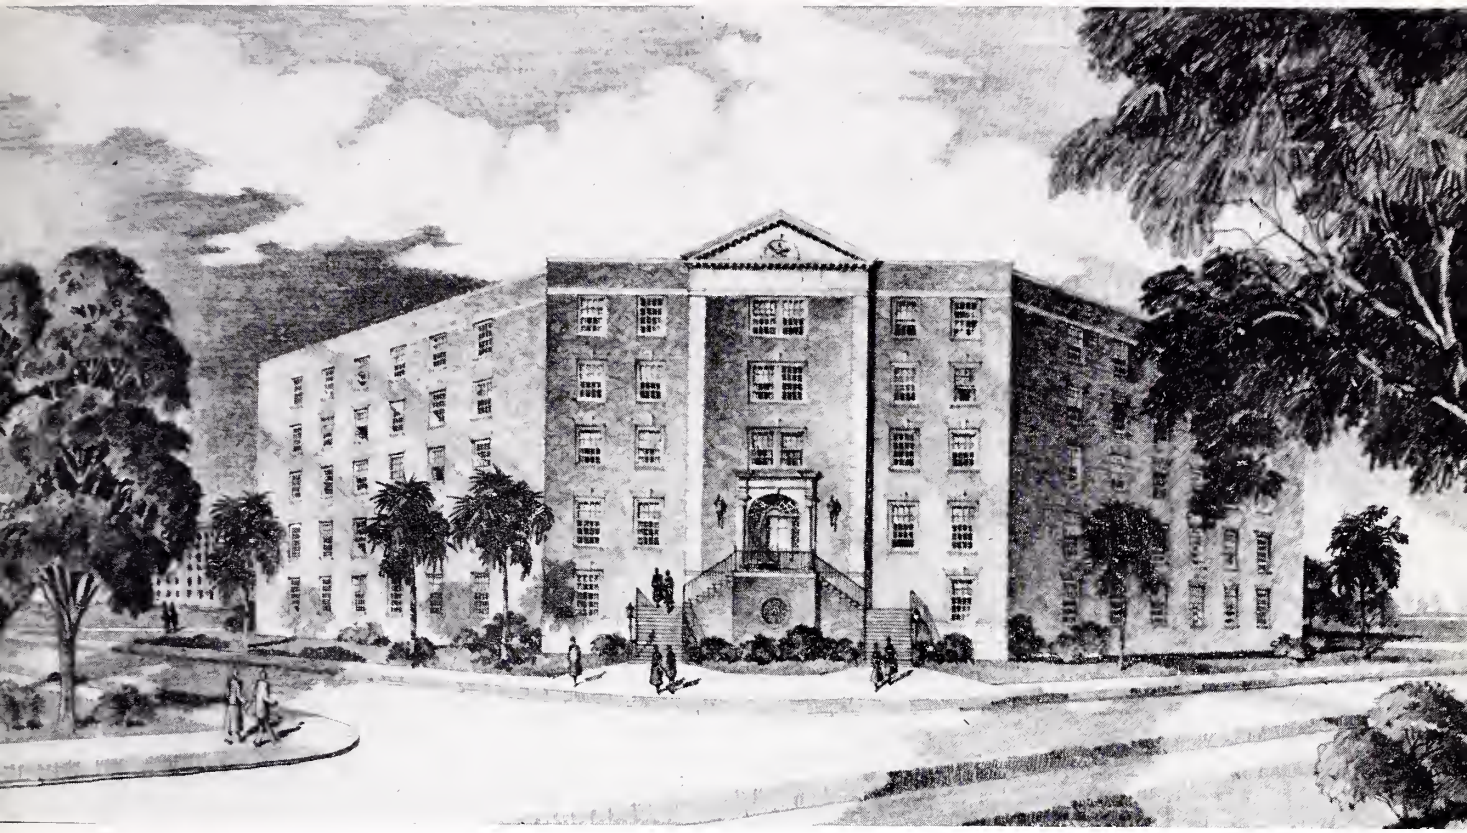
Along with this great event came another pleasant happening—the second section of our class arrived and soon we were all one big happy family.

The months seemed to go rapidly, and soon it was a year—our first stripe!

The months took their toll of our classmates, and though they are no longer with us, we often think of them.

Soon another year was gone and with it came the second black stripe—seniors!

Now we are ready for graduation. Soon each of us will embark upon our own chosen field of our chosen profession, but you may be sure that whatever we do or wherever we go, we'll never forget our classmates, teachers, or Dear Ole' Alma Mater!



SKETCH OF THE SCHOOL OF NURSING BUILDING

Our dream coming true! The new Nurses' Building is now under construction and will be completed within a year. It will contain offices and classrooms on the first floor and will have separate entrances for guests and business associates. Each four students will share suites—one whole bathroom to each four students! A launderette and kitchenette will be available on each floor. We are all anxiously awaiting its completion.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The first attempt to establish student government in the Nursing School was in 1938; but it was not until 1948 that the Student Government Association, a self-governing body established under the Honor Code, was inaugurated. It published the first student government manual in 1949.

Under the leadership of the Student Council, which is comprised of student government officers and class representatives, there have been constant improvements to meet the needs of our growing and advancing school.

During the past year the Student Council revised the Student Government Handbook and gave to the Student Government a new method of self discipline as well as many added privileges.

As members of the Student Government Association the students take individual pride in the high ideals they strive to attain in the Nursing Profession.

University Program

The contract between the University of South Carolina and the School of Nursing of the Medical College of South Carolina and Roper Hospital provides for a course leading to a B.S. degree. The joint program calls for two years of pre-nursing at the University, followed by twenty-three months theory and clinical work at Roper Hospital. Students also affiliated with Sheppard Pratt, O-Teen, and Public Health. When all requirements have been met the student receives a B.S. degree from the University of South Carolina.

Class Song—Dedicated to our loving dean—Miss Ruth Chamberlin

At the end of ole Calhoun
Near the Mine Craft Base,
There's a home that nurses live in,
Known as Ruthie's Place.

Raise your voices, get restricted,
Ever sorry be.
I'll uphold you, Alma Mater,
Or you'll fall on me.

Six o'clock in early morning,
We're not in the mood.
Still we rise and go to breakfast,
And eat Kinzie's food.

One, two, three, four, five, that's all,
Probies till the end.
Nightly visits from our Ruthie,
At one minute past ten . . . the end!

Charleston, South Carolina

Yes, we plant trees.....

yes, we plant trees on our own lands and give trees to farmers and landowners in all parts of South Carolina for planting on their own lands. During the past planting season, more than enough pine seedlings were planted on Company lands and given to individual landowners to replace every tree cut for pulpwood and used by the Company's Charleston Mill. We are actually replacing every tree cut and manufactured by us into useful paper and chemical by-products, with a living, growing pine seedling to take its place.

3-year old pines growing on Company lands
